Fighting Campus Rape and Respecting Due Process: A Conversation

KC Johnson
Professor of History, Brooklyn College

Stuart Taylor, Jr. ’70
Author; Contributing Editor, National Journal

Authors of
The Campus Rape Frenzy: The Attack on Due Process at America’s Universities (Encounter Books, 2017)

Moderated by
Ana Samuel ’00
Research Scholar, The Witherspoon Institute

Tuesday, October 3, 2017
4:30 - 6:00 p.m.
Lewis Library 138

James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
609-258-1122
jmp.princeton.edu

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY
KC JOHNSON is Professor of History at Brooklyn College and the CUNY Graduate Center, where he specializes in U.S. political, diplomatic, and constitutional history. He has taught at Arizona State University and Williams College and has served as a visiting professor at Harvard University and at Tel Aviv University, where he was Fulbright Distinguished Chair in the Humanities. He has written or edited thirteen books, on topics ranging from congressional history to the Lyndon Johnson tapes to the historical and contemporary application of Title IX. His latest book, coauthored with Stuart Taylor, Jr., is The Campus Rape Frenzy: The Attack on Due Process at America’s Universities (Encounter Books, 2017). He received his BA and PhD from Harvard University and his MA from the University of Chicago.

ANA J. SAMUEL ’00 is Research Scholar at the Witherspoon Institute and Academic Director of CanaVox, a grassroots movement dedicated to small group discussions about sex and marriage. She has lectured on the history of political philosophy, ethics, and constitutional law for the politics departments at Princeton University and the University of Notre Dame, and the Program in Contemporary European Politics and Society at Princeton University. Her published work and research focuses on the political and moral thought of Montesquieu. She received her BA in politics from Princeton University and her PhD in political and legal theory from the University of Notre Dame.