Richard A. Epstein is the inaugural Laurence A. Tisch Professor of Law at New York University School of Law, the Peter and Kirsten Bedford Senior Fellow at The Hoover Institution, and the James Parker Hall Distinguished Service Professor of Law, Emeritus and senior lecturer at the University of Chicago. He has taught and written extensively on a wide range of legal topics, including constitutional law, contracts, intellectual property, torts, and political theory. His most recent book is Design for Liberty: Private Property, Public Administration, and the Rule of Law (Harvard University Press, 2011). He is also the author of Why Progressive Institutions are Unsustainable (Encounter Books, 2011), Simple Rules for a Complex World (Harvard University Press, 1995), and Takings: Private Property and the Power of Eminent Domain (1985). He has been a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences since 1985 and was the recipient of the Bradley Prize in 2011. He received a A.B. from Columbia College, a B.A. from Oxford University, and an L.L.B. from Yale University.
