

James Madison Program
in American Ideals and Institutions

WASHINGTON AND HAMILTON: THE INDISPENSABLE ALLIANCE

STEPHEN KNOTT

Professor of National Security Affairs,
United States Naval War College

Author of Washington and Hamilton: The Alliance That Forged America
(Sourcebooks, 2015)

Alpheus T. Mason Lecture in Constitutional Law and Political Thought

Thursday,

March 31, 2016

4:30 – 6:00 p.m.

Lewis Library 120

James Madison Program
in American Ideals and Institutions
609-258-5107
<http://princeton.edu/sites/jmadison>

 PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

Stephen Knott is Professor of National Security Affairs at the United States Naval War College in Newport, RI. Prior to teaching at the Naval War College, he was Co-Chair of the Presidential Oral History Program at the Miller Center of Public Affairs at the University of Virginia. He also served for seven years as an Associate Professor in the Political Science Department at the United States Air Force Academy. His books include Alexander Hamilton and the Persistence of Myth (2002); Secret and Sanctioned: Covert Operations and the American Presidency (1996); At Reagan's Side: Insiders' Recollections from Sacramento to the White House (2009); and Rush to Judgment: George W. Bush, the War on Terror, and His Critics (2012). His most recent book, Washington & Hamilton: The Alliance that Forged America, was published in September, 2015, and was co-authored with Tony Williams, the author of numerous books on the American Founding. He received his PhD in Political Science from Boston College.

