

Friday, October 22

10:00–11:30 a.m. Religion in American History and Contemporary Politics

Paper: “Religion in American History and Contemporary Politics”

Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., Author and Historian

Respondents: Jeanne Heffernan, Villanova University
George McKenna, City College of New York

Moderator: Hadley Arkes, Amherst College

1:00–1:45 p.m. Keynote Address: “The Naked European Public Square”

Joseph H.H. Weiler, New York University

Introduction: Robert P. George, Princeton University

2:00–3:30 p.m. Religion and Pluralist Liberal Democracy

Paper: “Religious Pluralism and the Limits of Public Reason”

William A. Galston, University of Maryland

Respondents: Eddie S. Glaude, Princeton University
Michael Pakaluk, Clark University

Moderator: Byron R. Johnson, Baylor University

3:30–4:00 p.m. Break

4:00–5:30 p.m. Religion in Contemporary Constitutional Law

Paper: “The Public Square: Naked No More?”

Gerard V. Bradley, University of Notre Dame Law School

Respondents: Christopher L. Eisgruber, Princeton University
Philip Hamburger, University of Chicago Law School

Moderator: Christopher Wolfe, Marquette University

Saturday, October 23

10:00–11:30 a.m. Natural Law, Religion and Politics

Paper: “Economy or Explication? Telling the Truth about God and Man in a Pluralist Society”

John M. Finnis, Oxford University and University of Notre Dame Law School

Respondents: Rogers M. Smith, University of Pennsylvania
Eric Gregory, Princeton University

Moderator: Bradford P. Wilson, Princeton University

1:45–3:15 p.m. The Naked Public Square Today

Paper: “The Naked Public Square Today: A Secular Public Square?”

Mary Ann Glendon, Harvard Law School

Respondents: Stephen J. Macedo, Princeton University
Walter A. McDougall, University of Pennsylvania

Moderator: James R. Stoner, Jr., Louisiana State University

3:30–4:00 p.m. Concluding Reflections

Richard John Neuhaus, Institute on Religion and Public Life